Dreamy Imagery
By Tiffany Tate

Think about some of your warmest memories for a moment. Thinking back, I realize most of my warmest memories occurred while I was a kid. Flying a kite, riding my bike, or hanging with my friends, I had a blast. Now imagine if you could take a snapshot of your most pleasant thought and visually add how that image makes you feel. Mine would have little pink hearts falling down around me with a silhouette of my favorite stilettos in the background. It would be colorful, artsy and delightful. Well, prepare yourself for the arrival of a fabulous photographer who can bring your memories to life just as you remember them.

Nozomi Live Design is a collection of art that resonates into your soul and touches all of your senses. Each photo captures what has truly molded you and defines your joy. The true beauty of this collection is its limitless dimensions and towering artistic vision. These are not cleverly manipulated photographs; they are images of your inner senses and warmest moments heightened. What would your favorite memory sound like? Design Artist Asia Hamilton's work provides a joyous soundtrack to your photos with creative texture. The beauty vividly jumps out at you and caresses the vision of the beholder. Her work gives you the feeling of being swept away into an abyss of color and landing softly in a world that is truly your own. A Picasso for your dreams.
